HELLO FROM JEREMY

Dear Friends,

I write this on the longest day of the year and, like so many days this summer, it has been hot, an effect of global warming and climate change with all its associated problems, which seem to be getting worse year by year. In this current heatwave I read that in parts of France they have had to ban outdoor events, like concerts. And in Greece, in the summer, it is now illegal to have BBQ's.

In moderation I like the sun and need to spend some time in it each year to recharge my mental as well as physical batteries, but sometimes it can be too hot!! The times when you have to water your vegetables and plants, and particularly when it's so hot that it makes it difficult or nigh on impossible to sleep, and that's made even worse if you lie awake and mull over the events of the day that has passed and worry about the future, something I do far too often.

To try and avoid this I try and put the past day to bed before I go to bed myself. Because it's all too easy to rush up to bed, with thoughts about the day buzzing around my head, and then stay awake mulling it over for hours on end.

So, before I head to bed, I try to spend some time – just a few minutes – thinking about the day I've had: What have I got done? What's been good? Tick them off and give thanks to God. What has gone wrong and where have I messed up? Reflect on them in prayer and, if necessary, ask for God's forgiveness. What things am I worried about? What things still need finishing off? And then again, pray about them, and try and leave all these things with God; I've handed over my burdens to him. And if I find myself still worrying about them, I try to pass them over to him yet again.

When I do this, it helps me to go to bed appreciating the things I have achieved, rather than just thinking about all the things I haven't done. It also helps me to leave the problems with God and to sort out with him any mistakes I have made, so I can start afresh the next day. Oh, and I try NOT to look at emails just before going upstairs!

I hope you all have a wonderful summer, and that the temperature is just right for you.

Love

1 Peter 5:7

“Prayer is a plant, the seed of which is sown in the heart of every Christian. If it is well cultivated and nourished it will produce fruit, but if it is neglected, it will wither and die.”

CONFIRMATION CLASSES

Confirmation can be an important part of a lifetime journey of faith as a follower of Jesus Christ. We are thinking of running some confirmation classes and so, if anyone is interested, please let Jeremy know.

CORONAVIRUS

To protect each other, and particularly those who are clinically vulnerable, we are asking that everyone who attends Church continues to wear a face covering and, where possible, to maintain social distancing.

Communion will continue to only be given as bread, and the priests will continue the rigorous hygiene protocols that are in place including the wearing of a face covering when distributing the bread.

For those who feel that they would still prefer to join us from home, we will, for the present, continue to live stream West Runton's weekly service.
